Oconee County Council,

Oconee County presents to us, the people, that it will comply with State and Federal laws and will take no action that is illegal, immoral or unethical.

South Carolina law code Sec. 4-1-20 gives procedures to follow when citizens desire to relocate the courthouse that requires the favor at election of two-thirds of the qualified voters.

In spite of written and verbal protests of hundreds of citizens, County Council has deemed it appropriate to build another courthouse at 205 W. Main Street, Walhalla, South Carolina. Council has stated its intention to move court to the new building. After proceeding with construction of a new Courthouse building, the Council Buildings and Grounds Committee in October, 2002 inspected the existing Courthouse at 211 W. Main Street in Walhalla and found it in need of repairs.

South Carolina law code Sec. 4-1-90 provides for furnishing rooms for courts and public officers when the Courthouse is unusable.

Therefore, this is a demand that upon moving the court, the County Council cause a sign to be posted at the new Courthouse building entrance on Short Street and at 205 W Main Street indicating this is the temporary location of the Oconee County Courthouse and that this temporary status remain in place until such time that the legal number of qualified voters approve the move of our court to the Short Street location. The sign should be sufficient to notify persons approaching the building that this is a temporary location.

Until voters have legally approved the move of our court, this demand includes that all plaques, name plates, letterhead and other official designation referring to the address and location of the Short Street Courthouse building indicate that this building is a temporary location for the Oconee County Courthouse.
